Dear Mr. Li and Mrs. Li,

How are you? I hope you are well. I'm writing to thank you for taking such good care of me during my stay in Beijing. Now that I'm back in London, I keep thinking about all the great times we had together.

It was so kind of you to welcome me into your home. I am grateful that you showed me so much of Beijing—like the day we visited the Great Wall. I still remember how you told me stories about its history while we walked. It has been a fantastic experience to learn about Chinese culture, too, especially when we made dumplings together. That's the thing I enjoyed most—sharing meals and laughing with you all.

Since I returned to London, I have told my friends all about my trip. They were amazed by the photos of the Forbidden City and wanted to know more about Chinese traditions. The thing I miss most is your home-cooked noodles—they were delicious!

I do hope that one day you can visit London. I would love to show you around my city, just like you did for me. Keep in touch!

Best wishes to you all,

Yours,

Frank

Thank you so much again.

Yours sincerely,

Mike

Dear everyone,

I appreciated a lot that all you have given me during the past year. I have been here for a year, as you know that I am an exchange student. Everything is strange in the beginning. Thanks to my teachers and friends' help, I have learnt much. In the past year, I have been in the school club. I have learnt a lot from others. When I had problems, you always came to help me. And I have been to many places of interest such as the Great Wall, the Summer Palace, Tian'anmen Square and so on. Also I have tasted the delicious food. China is a country with a long history, so I haven't missed learning about Chinese history and culture.

My experiences in China are few. But I will never forget them, and I will always remember every one of you.

Thank you so much again.

Yours sincerely,

Mike
